

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	4
CHAPTER I. Terrorism as a social given	7
1.1. Terrorism within the characteristics of the socio-economic formation. Brief historiographical overview	7
1.2. Regulatory function of terrorism	26
1.3. Terrorism and the formation of a global society (cultural aspect)	37
BIBLIOGRAPHY	43
CHAPTER II. Universal character of terrorism	49
2.1. Violence as the basis of terrorism	49
2.2. Global determinants of terrorism	56
2.2.1. The role of social identification in the genesis of terrorism	56
2.2.2. The role of civilization conflict in terrorism determination	61
2.3. The terrorist component of the human personality	67
2.4. The planetary nature of terrorism	75
BIBLIOGRAPHY	77
CHAPTER III. Prospects for the global terrorist model of the Universe existence	83
3.1. The impact of terrorism on the model of technical and humanitarian balance	83
3.2. The criminality of power and the terror of globalization	86
3.3. The development of the constructive function of terrorism in a global world	92
BIBLIOGRAPHY	97
CONCLUSION	99