

CONTENTS

SECTION 1. Epigenetic concept of ego-identity by Erik Erikson in the context of psychoanalytic pedagogy (Vertel A. V.)	1
1. General methodological aspects of Erik Erikson's epigenetic concept: prolegomena to the problem of psychosocial development	2
2. Stages of development of a child's Ego-identity in Erik Erikson's epigenetic concept.....	8
SECTION 2. The methodological trends used for research on the efficiency of psychotherapy in the cultural-historical dimension (Karpenko Z. S., Abramciow R.).....	18
1. The heritage of modernism and the crisis of evidence-based psychotherapy: the classic canon for verification	19
2. The crisis of modernism and the hermeneutic criteria justifying psychotherapy efficiency: the non-classical canon	22
3. Existential-phenomenological analysis in the early postmodern era: the post-non-classical canon to evaluate psychotherapy efficiency	24
4. The turn of psychotherapy toward linguistics during mature postmodern.....	27
5. Metamodern and a turn to performance in psychotherapy. The problem of verification criteria and methods for psychotherapeutic effects.....	32
SECTION 3. Resilience as the factor of post-traumatic personality growth (Kuzikova S. B.).....	44
1. The concept of resilience, the history of its origin	46
2. Future psychologist's resilience empirical research	64
3. Development of resilience as a direction of practical psychologist work. Factors of resilience development.....	67
SECTION 4. Theoretical-methodological foundations and psychological-pedagogical features of the professional development of a specialist's personality (Lazurenko O. O.).....	77
1. Professional development as a psychological problem	78
2. Psychological features and psychological and pedagogical principles of the professional formation of a doctor	81

SECTION 5. Technologies of military post-traumatic identity formation (Lukomska S. O.).....	88
1. The concept of military identity.....	90
2. Social dimensions of post-traumatic stress.....	92
3. Formation of military identity in the conditions of traumatic stress of war.....	95
SECTION 6. Emotional self-disclosure as a factor of psychological well-being of women (Novikova Zh. M.)	102
1. Emotionality of women.....	103
2. Self-disclosure of woman.....	110
3. Role of self-disclosure of women in support of psychological health	115
SECTION 7. The play center as a means of forming a communicative culture in children with different types of temperament (Omelianenko A. V.).....	129
1. The game center as a means of developing the communicative culture of older preschool children	131
2. An experimental model of the development of children's communicative culture in a play center	135
SECTION 8. Psychosocial support for family members of military personnel and veterans (Piankivska L. V.).....	149
1. The essence and regulatory component of psychosocial support	150
2. Current state of psychosocial support in Ukraine.....	165
SECTION 9. Conflictological culture of the future teacher and technologies of its formation in the system of higher education (Pukhno S. V.).....	179
1. The problem's prerequisites emergence and the problem's formulation.....	180
2. The analysis of pedagogical technologies of formation of the conflictological culture of the future teacher in the system of higher education.....	181
SECTION 10. Psychological features of disadaptation of servicemen – participants in hostilities (Usyk D. B.).....	192
1. The essence of the concept of disadaptation and the peculiarities of its manifestations in hostilities.....	192
2. The main factors influencing the level of disadaptation of a hostilities.....	198
3. Post-traumatic stress disorder as a manifestation of maladjustment in military personnel	202
4. Analysis of research results.....	208

SECTION 11. Psychological features of self-image in women with different reproductive attitudes (Shcherbak T. I.) 220

- 1. The self-image as a subject of psychological analysis in the theory and practice of domestic and foreign psychologists 221
- 2. The essence and peculiarities of women’s reproductive attitudes 229
- 3. Empirical analysis of the psychological characteristics of women’s self-image with different reproductive attitudes 239