

MARITIME LAW

This section of the monograph is prepared by the representatives of the Scientific School of Maritime Law, founded by Professor Oleg M. Balobanov in the 70s–80s of the last century.

Professor Oleg M. Balobanov created the scientific and educational base of maritime law at our University. He was deeply engaged in legal regulation of maritime passenger transport.

Nowadays the traditions of maritime lawyers are developed by Oleksandr O. Balobanov, Professor of ONMU, a graduate of Maritime University and University of I. I. Mechnikov. Today, prof. Oleksandr O. Balobanov is a maritime engineer, port practitioner, international lawyer, attorney, honorary worker of the Sea and River Transport of Ukraine.

In cooperation with professors of other scientific specialties – prof. Shakhov, prof. Postan, prof. Rudenko, prof. Dubrovsky, prof. Pozner and other European scientists – Oleksandr Balobanov developed the relevant current areas of maritime law, related to maritime safety, port regulation, and maritime insurance. Together with young scientists Ph.D. Kuliev, Ph.D. Loginov, Ph.D. Fedchun, Ph.D. Dopilka prof. Oleksandr O. Balobanov is conducting scientific researches that serve as a base for development of the maritime industry and staff training for specialists of maritime enterprises in merchant activity.