

CONTENTS

SECTION 1. Formation of Lifelong Learning Competence of Bachelors of Theology (Basarab M. M.)	1
1. The Phenomenon of Lifelong Education: Philosophical and Pedagogical Context of Training Theology Specialists	3
2. Pedagogical Conditions for the Formation of Lifelong Learning Competence in Theology Students	10
SECTION 2. Training of military chaplainers in the theological education system (Bed' V. V.)	27
1. History of Military Pastoral Care in Ukraine	28
2. Prospects and vectors of development of military chaplaincy in Ukraine	33
3. Regulatory and legal support for military chaplaincy	40
SECTION 3. The future of the orthodox church of Ukraine and spiritual education (Archpriest Volodymyr Grekh)	54
1. What mechanisms can be used to involve young people in church life and their active participation?	54
2. How to update the curricula of religious educational institutions so that they meet modern requirements?	56
3. What new specialties and areas of training can be introduced in theological education?	59
4. How to ensure the integration of theological knowledge with other sciences and disciplines?	61
5. How can the qualifications of teachers of theological educational institutions be improved?	62
SECTION 4. The formation of the academic discipline "Canon Law" in the content of training specialists in theology (Drashkovtsi A.-R. A.)	68
1. Canon law and theology. Discussions about canon law its own peculiarities	70
2. The tradition of studying canon law in Ukrainian lands	76

SECTION 5. Relations between the State and the Church in Soviet Ukraine (using the example of Transcarpathia 1944–1991) (Ofitsynskyy R. A.)	87
1. Introduction of the Soviet model of secularization: general and specific	88
2. Preventive oppression of Greek Catholics	93
3. Murder of the Greek Catholic eparch	99
4. Forcible dissolution of the Greek Catholic eparchy	102
5. Strengthening state control over the Orthodox confession	109
6. Totalitarian pressure on Protestants	112
SECTION 6. Synergistic discourse of apophatic and cataphatic theology as ways of knowing God (Archpriest Teliatynskyy I. M.)	121
1. Awareness of the cognitive limits of the human mind before the Divine nature as an epistemological prerequisite for knowing God in the Christian Orthodox tradition	123
2. Apophatic theology in the context of the path of denial, silence and supra-rational knowledge	131
3. Cataphatic theology as a path of affirmation, Revelation and understanding of Divine Energies	136
4. The necessity and relevance of the synergistic discourse of apophatic and cataphatic for Orthodox knowing God	139
SECTION 7. The ideas of Petro Mohyla in modern theological education (Shymko O. V.)	148
1. Quality education in domestic educational institutions	149
2. Religious tolerance	151
3. Teaching and serving in the native language	154